MONTPELIER

To-day marks the fourteenth day since a case of infantile paralysis has appeared in Montpelier and it is expected that the local board of health will meet sometime during the day or evening and either remove or modify the quarantine regulations.

The Vermont quartermaster department consisting of nine men has been ordered to report immediately to Adjutant-General Lee S. Tillotson and will leave Thursday for Concord, N. H., to be examined and mustered into federal service and will then be sent to Columbia, S. C., which has been designated as a cantonment for part of the drafted army.

Funeral services for James A. Ryle, whose death occurred Sunday after a long illness with Bright's disease, were held at 8 o'clock this morning at St. Augustine's church, Rev. P. J. Long officiating. The services were private because of the quarantine. Burial was made in the Catholic cemetery.

Ervin R. Wakefield, manager of the local store of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., left to-day for Fair Haven, where he will spend the remainder of the week with relatives.

Mrs. Lionel Mathewson of State street went yesterday afternoon to East Alburgh, where she will spend the remainder of the week.

The fire department was called out at 8:40 o'clock this morning to Winoski avenue, a chimney fire in the double tenement house near the Tenney company storehouse claiming the attention of the department for a few minutes. The fire was put out without damage to property.

Mrs. Homer Hayden of the Barre road left this noon with her little daughter, Margaret, for Springfield, Mass., where she will spend two months with relatives.

OUTLINE WAR BUYING PLAN.

Wilson Has a Conference with New Purchasing Board.

Washington, Aug. 7.—President Wilson yesterday summoned the new "war purchasing board" of the national defense council, to outline to the board his policy of war buying.

For lack of a definite working understanding the war board thus far has not centralized its work. It is believed Bernard Baruch will direct purchases of raw materials, both for this government and the allies, although this is another point on which there is no agreement as yet.

When asked to disclose, Kerr said that five bottles of beer purchased in a Granite street establishment were responsible for his condition when a policeman arrested him. Judge Scott sentenced him to serve 30 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $15 with costs of $11.35.

I. W. W. STRIKE FEVER GROWS IN MONTANA

Threatens to Tie Up All the Butte Industries for Little Lynching.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 7.—Butte yesterday was facing several additional strikes which threaten completely to tie up local industries as a result of the killing of Frank W. Little, I. W. W. leader.

Several hundred members of the Clerks' union are to take a strike vote. A decision to walk out will close practically all stores in Butte. All mine engineers are seriously considering a strike, also, according to leaders of the Metal Mine Workers' union, which would force complete shutdown of the mines.

No attempt has been made by the street car company to break the strike of car men and no cars had moved since Saturday morning.

Union leaders declared 12,000 miners were still out as a result of the original miners' strike, and that less than three per cent of the miners deserted the union.

The funeral of Frank Little, held Sunday, was a peaceful demonstration and no violence resulted. Paraders estimated at 5,000 marched behind the body. In the line of march were members of the I. W. W., and the Pearce-Connolly club, an Irish Nationalist organization. No religious service was held, the body being interred after speeches of protest and condemnation of various leaders.

The entire police department, many extra deputies and two companies of the National Guard were mobilized during the ceremonies in the expectation of trouble.

A mass meeting, at which speakers demanded justice of the killing of Little, followed the funeral. Sensational charges that Tom Campbell, president of the local I. W. W. Miners' union, was offered $15,000 by the operators to call off the strike, and $15,000 more when the men returned to work were made.

The third session of the coroner's inquest over Little's death was begun yesterday.

Rev. Stanley Blomfield officiating. The child was a granddaughter of the late Harry Wheeler." Mrs. Wheeler will be remembered as a former librarian of the Aldrich public library.

Officers of Granite City camp, Modern Woodmen of America, have been advised that George F. Baldwin of Providence, R. I., has been delegated to serve as deputy for Vermont and New Hampshire. The new officer takes over a part of the work of A. O. Palmer of Burlington, who has been in charge ever since the order was instituted. Previous to his recent appointment, the new district deputy served in a similar capacity in Rhode Island and earned for himself the reputation of a careful and conscientious official. Although the supreme order does not designate the town or city where the deputy shall reside, it is regarded as probable that Mr. Baldwin will locate somewhere in Vermont.

A cloud of uncertainty surrounding the whereabouts of his son was removed to-day, when James Parker, sr., of Summer street, a veteran of the British navy, received from the son, James Parker, jr., a letter advising him of experiences encountered in two clashes with German U-boats. Some time last fall young Parker was aboard the Missourian when she was torpedoed by the Germans. It was his fourth trip with the vessel, and he nearly lost his life. The Missourian was sunk, but Parker was one of the crew who was saved, and, nothing daunted by his first encounter with the ruthlessness of the Hun, he shipped aboard the Kansas. Not long afterward the Kansas was torpedoed five miles off the coast of France and four lives were lost. Parker states that he was in bed when the torpedo struck home and had but a few moments in which to make his escape. At present he is at Hotel de Univers in Nantes, France, although he expects to leave for Brooklyn, N. Y., within a short time.
